

Dharma Healing & Wellness, LLC's Cancellation Policy for Retreats, Camps, Workshops

There is no refund for a cancellation unless that space is filled by a replacement. If you cancel after you have made payments then we will attempt to locate someone who can fill that void. If or when we find a replacement then you will be refunded all monies minus at least a $25 fee.

You, being the Patron, can also do a transfer to someone that you know of who may be interested in replacing you on the retreat, camp, or workshop. This is the suggested manner to which a cancellation should be handled because you can get the full refund amount. The new patron/friend will just pay you all that you have paid out and you will get 100% of your monies returned to you by that person. This would be a win-win for all.

It is also advised that all bookings for transportation (air/bus/train) be booked as a fully refundable transaction/ticket (when there is out of state travel not provided by Dharma). There are many unforeseen circumstances that are beyond our control and it is just better to pay a little extra in preparation for all possibilities. If at all Dharma Healing & Wellness, LLC (doing business as the Little Girl grown Woman Issues) faces any unforeseen circumstances that leads to cancellation then all monies minus the $25 fee paid out will be refunded.
